For travellers all around the world, the word "Olympic" brings to mind many memories and dreams. But for all Greeks, it will always bring to mind the first Greek airline. The first airline that opened the world's skies to all Greeks, becoming synonymous with safety and serving as a point of reference and pride for generations and generations - bringing her historic logo of six linked rings to all corners of the world.

On October 1st, the new Olympic entered a new era, spreading its wings and embarking on new voyages. It has been renamed Olympic Air and in the hands of Marfin Investment Group (MIG), the largest business group in Southeastern Europe

In addition to this new momentum, leading technology, innovation, and pioneering, the new Olympic Air boasts one of the youngest fleets of aircraft in Europe, consisting of Airbus A319/A320s and Bombardier Dash 8s

The new Olympic Air will be more modern than ever and have a new vision, a new vigour, a new concept - with brand new cutting-edge aircraft, with innovative and pioneering services and traditional Greek hospitality.
